WHO ARE WE?

The Cheshire Kitchen Company design, manufacture and install bespoke luxury interiors.

If you are an Interior Designer, Architect or Project Specifier looking to develop your ideas, our aim is to help you turn them into a reality as smoothly and efficiently as possible at every stage of the project whether it's a kitchen, dressing room, study, cinema room or a complete architectural joinery package.

Our team of designers, cabinet makers, project managers, veneerers, finishers and fitters are passionate about their work, with a combination of over 50 years of experience and an in-depth product knowledge, enables us to deliver unique and imaginative solutions, often exceeding expectations.

The creation of bespoke furniture is an intricate process. The team at The Cheshire Kitchen Company fully understand this process and it comes as second nature to us. Creativity, craftsmanship, but more importantly, careful calculation is inherent in all our commissions.

All elements of our process are in-house and we have our own fully equipped workshop that values traditional craftsmanship as well as embracing high tech CNC machinery. Our workshop, design studio and showroom premises are situated over two sites just a few miles apart in the stunning Cheshire countryside. We invite you and your clients to visit us and see what we pride ourselves on.

APPROACH

At The Cheshire Kitchen Company, our first job is to listen intently to your requirements. Once we understand the brief, we draw upon our 60 years of combined design experience as well as our extensive library of samples and imagery of previous projects in order to suggest innovative and exciting ways to show you how we can turn your space into a place you can be truly proud of.

We are design led and will always look to suggest unique and individual elements to each project to make a space truly unique. We will never let budget depict a design. We can draw upon our experience to cost engineer a project without sacrificing these unique design elements.

Every element of your project from initial designs through to technical drawings and every element of manufacturing is kept in-house so that we have true control over every phase of a project. This is to ensure it is completed to our very high standards and that no detail is missed.

ATTENTION TO DETAIL

Our attention to detail is what sets us apart from our rivals and this can only be achieved because we are a team of like-minded individuals who all share the same passion for what we do. From our drawing office through to our site installation teams, we all understand that it is the finer details that count - whether it is a contemporary project that requires crisp shadow gaps or traditional architectural detail that needs to be replicated, we understand that this attention to detail is going to create a truly amazing space that we are all proud to have worked on.
